

MISSION QUAKE

DESCRIPTION:

Mission Quake is a community-wide service event sponsored by a number of area churches. Service projects within the Wake Forest community are completed during a given weekend by churches of different denominations. The event is meant not to elevate a single denomination, but to elevate the church at large, the body of Christ. It draws together the Christian community, cross denominational boundaries and lifts the name of Christ through joint participation in large scale partnership projects. Some of these projects include: The Million Meals Program, The Crop Walk, Letters from Home and the "Pint-Sized Paint Project".

Mission Quake typically takes place in the fall, in September.
